CHANGES TO MASS CELEBRATIONS

We welcome the decision of the government to allow public worship to continue throughout the current lockdown. Bishop Robert has stressed that the first priority should be our personal and family members safety and we should discuss the situation with our loved ones before making a decision as to whether or not we attend church. For as long as the lock down lasts therefore (from week commencing 10th January), Mass will be celebrated at St Aidan's on Sunday (10.00am) and Wednesday (9.30am) only and will continue to be held at St Bernadette's at 11.30am each Sunday. Private Masses with no congregation will be celebrated outside of those times. Taking care of our own health, both mental and physical is an absolute necessity in these troubled times.

A CULTURE OF CARE AS A PATH TO PEACE

Bishop McMahon, the President of Pax Christi asks us to support their work in the year ahead. "Next week we mark Peace Sunday and this year has been one of unprecedented and continuing challenges. We are all conscious of the need to restore and rebuild our communities here and around the world, accepting that we need new ways of working and relating to each other. The Christian message of peace, through reconciliation, justice and nonviolence, can offer hope and direction in these times. Despite the restrictions, Pax Christi continues to work across England & Wales with a small team of paid staff and volunteers promoting peace through outreach work, peace education in schools, presence on social media and in the press, and the production of useful resources."

If you would like to support the work of Pax Christi please put your donation in an envelope and drop off at church—or go to :

A Prayer from Pope Francis

The peace Jesus gives us is a peace for today and the future. May the lord give us this peace, full of hope, that makes us fruitful, that makes us communicative with others, that creates community and that always looks to the definitive peace of Paradise. Amen.
